Call for Chapter Proposals

Researchers and practitioners are invited to submit by Deadline: September 1, 2023, proposals for chapters that address the challenges faced by academics and students during times of War, Mobility, and Displacement and its Impact on Higher Education. Chapters should provide insights into the experiences of academics who are in exile, the reasons for their displacement, and the impact of mobility on their personal and professional lives. The book will explore the strategies and solutions that institutions can adopt to support these communities and promote academic freedom and mobility. Proposals should be 500-750 words and must include a title, an abstract, an outline, and a brief explanation of how the proposal fits into the book's scope and goals. All proposals should be submitted by email to callforchapterproposals@hetl.org.